Joshua 4:1-3 (NRSV)

When the entire nation had finished crossing over the Jordan, the Lord said to Joshua: "Select twelve men from the people, one from each tribe, and command them, 'Take twelve stones from here out of the middle of the Jordan, from the place where the priests' feet stood, carry them over with you, and lay them down in the place where you camp tonight.'"

The background of the image is a dramatic painting depicting a battle scene. The sky is a vibrant mix of purple, pink, and orange, suggesting a sunset or sunrise. In the foreground and middle ground, numerous soldiers are visible, some on horseback and others on foot. They are silhouetted against the bright light of the sky, creating a stark contrast. The soldiers on horseback are in the center, while those on foot are in the foreground. The overall atmosphere is one of intense action and historical significance.

The LORD did not set his affection on you and choose you because you were more numerous than other peoples, for you were the fewest of all peoples. But it was because the LORD loved you and kept the oath he swore to your forefathers that he brought you out with a mighty hand and redeemed you from the land of slavery, from the power of Pharaoh king of Egypt. Deut. 7:7-8

A close-up photograph of dark, wet, smooth stones on a beach. The stones are dark in color, possibly black or dark grey, and have a glossy, reflective surface due to being wet. They are scattered across the foreground, with some larger stones and many smaller ones. The background is a soft, out-of-focus greyish-blue, suggesting a beach or coastal environment. Overlaid in the center of the image is the text "WHAT DO THESE STONES MEAN?" in a light grey, sans-serif font.
